

Dear Doctor,

Your patient has obtained information from our dermatologist-created website, SebDermatitis.com, for help with stubborn chronic skin problems. Our website algorithms are designed to work with your prescriptions, combined with comprehensive dermatologic care instructions, to achieve additional satisfying results. Patients are instructed to use these recommendations under the supervision of their doctor.

The SebDerm™ formula lotion, has been developed by a dermatologist with over twenty-five years of experience with all skin types, for helpful results with multiple diagnoses including seborrheic dermatitis complicating atopic eczema, psoriasis, perioral dermatitis, flexure rashes, and intolerance to acne medication.

- It's a unique product designed for contributing to success by treating coexistent seborrheic dermatitis and reducing inflammation in many clinical situations.
- SebDerm lotion contains 0.75% hydrocortisone acetate (less than OTC hydrocortisone) and will not cause corticosteroid side effects when used properly
- SebDerm lotion contains the pure element sulfur (less than monograph) that is included as part of the barrier repairing base lotion, similar to how dimethicone is used in sub-monograph concentrations in many preparations
- The pure element Sulfur is not related to Sulfa antibiotic allergy, and in low concentration can be tolerated by 99% of patients. (See my published article on the subject in June 2008 issue of Journal of Drugs in Dermatology.)
- SebDerm lotion is designed to reduce inflammation and work with your favorite prescription antibiotics for folliculitis, perioral dermatitis, acne with sensitive skin, shaving rashes, and staphylococcal colonized dermatitis.
- SebDerm lotion is designed to reduce inflammation and work with your favorite prescription antifungals for intertrigo and flexure fold rashes (i.e., econazole cream) or for seborrheic dermatitis (ketoconazole and sufacetamide products), flexure psoriasis and heat rash.

Please visit our website, DrHSkin.com, for a printable version of my published work on this formula, and for a paper entitled Perioral Dermatitis and Sulfur, a monograph about facial use of topical steroids and perhaps the best single source for the difficult subject of perioral dermatitis.

Thank you for allowing us to support your work for patients with our website information and the SebDerm™ formula lotion. Please don't hesitate to call me at 515-225-8180 with questions, for office trade samples, or to become one of our speakers on this subject. We also have opportunities to be the first physician in your area to carry the physician-dispense exclusive version of this product called Stabilizer Lotion®.

Sincerely,

Steven L Harlan, MD FAAD
